DR. DAY SOUNDS WARNING

GENUINE PLAGUE EXISTS AT SAN FRANCISCO.

Examined Slides of Seven Cases and Found All to be Plague—Warning to Honolulu Authorities.

Dr. F. R. Day, one of the best authorities in the Pacific on the subject, declares that San Francisco has had at least seven cases of genuine bubonic plague. He returned last night from the coast. In the Bay City he was received courteously by the health authorities and given an opportunity of examining their slides and following up the history of each case.

Dr. Day says that it will be necessary for Honolulu to adopt a policy against San Francisco. Just what these regulations may be will have to be determined by the circumstances, as they appear and developments of the next few days. Dr. Day says:

"The City State and National health authorities agree that there have been at least seven cases. I saw the slides and followed up the history of each case. There is no possible doubt about the genuineness of the disease. Numerous circumstances suggest our own experience here. This is not only in the matter of symptoms, but in microscopic appearances and the effects of inoculation upon animals."

"What the outlook is I am hardly prepared to say. The press and commercial interest are fighting hard against the health authorities and are terribly embarrassing the work. On this account the proper measures for stamping out the infection are not being taken. The San Francisco Board of Health is represented as being a political body. Most of them are able men but they have not the backbone to perform their duty in the face of the tremendous opposition."

"If climatic conditions, which I think are decidedly favorable, do not save them I say that San Francisco is face to face with a serious epidemic of plague. A series of phases of the situation in that city shows the conditions in Chinatown. When I left the Board of Health was trying to investigate Chinatown with ten inspectors accompanied by ten policemen. This district contains from 25,000 to 30,000 people. In that large colony the inspectors have been unable to find any cases of sickness of any kind whatever. Most significant of all is that in the whole week prior to my departure only two deaths in that district had been reported to the Board of Health. For the past many years the average death rate for that district has been 12-13 per day. What is being done with the sick and the dead is not hard to imagine. It is said to say that no one in San Francisco knows the true situation. There may have been and may still be a great deal of plague in Chinatown."

"No, there is no quarantine around the infected district. The Chinamen living there are allowed to go in and out at will and there is no proper control of health matters there. They have a far more difficult problem there than we have here. My investigations made me feel proud of the public spirit and intelligence of the people of Honolulu as contrasted with the ridiculous and dangerous attitude of the people of San Francisco."

About the Peking: That vessel arrived here with a clean bill of health. In issuing such a bill to the Peking Hawaiian Consul Wilder defied the Board of Health of San Francisco and the order of Surgeon General Wyman declaring San Francisco an infected port. The Peking brought no freight for Honolulu. Her Chinese passengers came from Mexico and were transferred in the harbor to her, not landing there at all. There were absolutely no restrictions with regard to the other passengers. Mail from the east, or that is paper mail, came straight through."

"If the plague continues to develop there it will be necessary for Honolulu to adopt such measures as apply to other infected ports. Walking out to the door, and hesitating a moment, Dr. Day added: "Of course I am not now a member of the local Board of Health and can not forecast what action may be taken; but I can tell you that the situation in San Francisco is really very serious and I consider that some strict policy should at once be put into effect by our authorities here."

Peerless Preserving Paint will last longer than any other.

SEA CAPTAINS TAKE HOLD

LAWYER HIRED TO FIGHT FOR ERDALL.

Shipping Master Lewis Talks of Leaving Honolulu to Take a Political Job in California.

A combination of ship captains who are here now has been formed for the purpose of employing an attorney in behalf of Shipping Master Erdall, the man who was so severely beaten last week. The captains also propose to band together to protect themselves against the shipping master monopoly of Turk & Lewis, and several of them have taken the stand that they will do no business with the latter. Erdall still shows the marks of his terrible beating, in fact, the many body bruises that show how he was kicked as he lay on the ground, as well as beaten with fists, make him a little less able to get about now than he was yesterday. If he had not been a strongly built man the case undoubtedly would have been one of murder.

McCartney Stewart is the lawyer employed by the hull of sea captains. He is examining the evidence collected by Police Captain Flint. The police have finished their case, and warrants may be issued this afternoon or tomorrow morning. Many witnesses made statements to the marshal yesterday, some of them telling about how they saw Turk & Lewis spotting the victim on the two days before the assault was committed, as well as sending sailors to watch him. One of the men held in prison is said to have told a police officer that he had been one of Erdall's assailants, and that Turk & Lewis had paid him for his part in the affair. The case promises to furnish one of the most interesting trials that has been heard here for some time.

Feeling against the two shipping men runs very high among the captains now in port. There is talk among them of an appeal to the Cabinet and a statement is being prepared for signatures, setting forth the things of which the captains complain. "Big Jim," the policeman who was on the front with Harry Evans, has been put back on the beat with Flint, and there is going to be a sharp lookout.

Oscar Lewis is talking of shaking the dust of Honolulu off his feet, and he may soon leave the shippers here to the even tenor of the ways they knew before the firm of Turk & Lewis opened up in Hawaii. Lewis stated this morning that he had an offer of a position as traveling agent of the California State Board of Examiners, and that he might possibly accept it. There is $1,800 a year in this job, besides expenses, and the shipping man is considering whether this is not better than the somewhat exciting business he has built up here.

CIRCUIT COURT TODAY.

F. A. Schaefer's account of the A. A. Long estate has been approved by P. D. Kellett, master.

Emil New was yesterday fined $15 by Judge Stanley for profanity at Mrs. Levy's lodging house in Alakaa street.

C. T. Wilder has been commissioned to take testimony at San Francisco in the case of Sarah A. Berger vs. C. W. Booth and C. S. Desky.

Bruce Cartwright has given up the Holt trust, and Henry Smith has been appointed in his place.

ANOTHER APPEAL.

The Canadian-Australian Steamship Company has moved for a new trial in the case brought against it by Jennie Alexander, damages. A bond in the sum of $5,000 has been filed.

The woman was granted $5,000 damages.

A LEASE SOLD.

John Emmelhut has purchased the twenty-four years' lease of the Murray shop premises on King street, below Nuuanu for the sum of $7,500. He will use the shop for warehouse purposes. Mr. Murray will probably go into the blacksmith business with the Honolulu Stockyards Company.

EX-QUEEN AT HOME AGAIN

LILIUOKALANI ARRIVES ON THE CITY OF PEKING.

Will Have Nothing to Do With Politics Hereafter—Poor Health After Her Long Stay Abroad.

Ex-Queen Liliuokalani unexpectedly arrived at about midnight last night on the steamship City of Peking, defeating the plans of those who were preparing to give her a reception upon the arrival of the Australia tomorrow. Her majesty is much changed in appearance, having lost weight during her long stay abroad and being in rather feeble health. She was driven at once to her Beretania street mansion, where, late as the hour was, a few of her intimate advisers and friends were received. She was early morning when she returned to Honolulu, and declined to receive visitors.

The ex-Queen is quoted as utterly opposed to taking any part whatever in local politics. When asked for an explanation, she said she was not in the mood to do so, having nothing to gain or lose either way. She will not side with Democrats or Republicans, nor will she join in any moment for an independent native party. The ex-Queen has had her fight and lost and been put down, and now she is ready to live her own life and give her attention to her private property interests, which are much in need of looking after.

"As far as Washington is concerned, the ex-Queen does not expect any action in that regard at present. She stated to me that Congress seemed to have too much to do without giving attention to her. Her majesty would have met Mr. Macfarlane in San Francisco had she not left sooner than she expected. She was to have arrived in San Francisco on the day of the Australia's departure and he will probably arrive here tomorrow. He may be able to say something of what is likely to be done in Washington."

Mr. Carter stated that the ex-Queen's health is not very good at this time, and that she is in need of rest. He was inclined to think that the cancer story was not true. "The doctors are said to have declared it cancer," said Mr. Carter, "and what can a layman say against them? I do not think the ex-Queen has the disease. She is much thinner than when she left here and needs retirement and rest. For this reason if for no other she will not take part in any public affairs. She simply will not allow anyone to approach her on politics."

Ex-Queen Liliuokalani was accompanied by Prince David Kawananakoa, R. W. Wilcox was also a passenger on the City of Peking, accompanied by his father, "Bob," and what can a layman say against them? I do not think the ex-Queen has the disease. She is much thinner than when she left here and needs retirement and rest. For this reason if for no other she will not take part in any public affairs. She simply will not allow anyone to approach her on politics."

SHIPPING COMMISSIONER.

W. Porter Boyd received notice by the Peking that he had been appointed shipping commissioner for the central government at this port. His duties will be much what they are now as vice consul, looking after sailors and certain matters in connection with ships. The post is quite important and lucrative, and Mr. Boyd is being generally congratulated today.

ENGLAND IS PLEASED.

LONDON, May 22.—The reply of the Washington government to the Boer peace envoys satisfies Great Britain. The Standard says:

"It is the quite correct, indeed, the only possible line for the British authorities to take, for they know perfectly well that America has not a shred of concern in this African quarrel, which we intend to dispose of ourselves, without assistance from any outside parties whatever."

The Times says: "The failure of the Boer envoys to produce a serious impression in the United States, even during a presidential campaign, is complete. The United States Senate rejected a proposal to admit them, and moreover, Mr. Hay assured them that while the president desires peace he is bound to adhere to the policy of impartial neutrality."

WILL REMAIN EAST.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—President McKinley will not go to California this summer. This has been practically settled by the plans which the President has just completed, and which precluded the possibility of his taking the Coast trip.

WM. HAYWOOD, CITIZEN

CONSUL WILL PRACTICE LAW HERE.

Declines a New Federal Bill to Cast His Lot With Hawaii—Tells of His Trip East.

Consul William Haywood will become a citizen of the Territory of Hawaii. This will be welcome news to the numerous sincere friends Mr. Haywood has made in this country during his four years of service here for the Government.

Mr. Haywood returned last night from a trip to San Francisco and Washington. He was at his office early this morning reading a big batch of mail. At 12 o'clock on the night of June 12, or a week from tomorrow, his commission expires, and the consulate becomes a thing of the past.

"Two days before I left for the Coast," explained Mr. Haywood, "I received a letter informing me that two federal positions were open to me and that I might take my choice. One of them I did not care for. At the time I thought the other might be desirable, and went to Washington with the intention of accepting it."

"Upon reaching home and talking the matter over with members of my family I decided not to accept office at all, but to return to Honolulu, settle down to the practice of law, and grow up with the country. One thing inducing this conclusion is my investments here—my financial interest in the development of the country. My father-in-law urged me to give up Government business and to strike out in Honolulu for myself."

"Thus, after a time, I informed President McKinley that I would not accept either of the positions he had so kindly offered. He wished me success as a lawyer in Honolulu and assured me that if at any time I wished to return to the service of the Government he would do all in his power for me."

"My intention is to become a citizen of Hawaii for better or for worse." In two weeks I will hang out my shingle and be ready for business."

Consul Haywood had several interviews with the officials regarding the disposition of the archives of the consulate here. He told the secretary that there were certain things in the office that would be of interest to the Hawaiian Government and Bishop Museum, and asked to be allowed to turn them over. Other things he thought should go to W. Porter Boyd, the new shipping commissioner, as they will be of great value to him in his work.

The department made the extraordinary concession of giving Mr. Haywood full authority in the matter. Before leaving Washington a letter was given him, vesting him with power to dispose of the law books, archives, etc., of the consulate in such a way as he might deem best.

Mr. Haywood feels very cheerful over prospects here. In speaking of Hawaii in general this morning, he said that he did not know how attached he was to the country until he got away from it.

PLANTERS' CONVENTION.

It was announced that as a result of yesterday's conference of the planters' and employers' convention "It has been recommended by the plantation managers to the trustees of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association that labor bureaus be established on each of the different islands, and that the pass-book system be inaugurated again; also that the plantations should stand together for mutual protection."

AGREEMENT ON FEDERATION.

LONDON, May 21.—In moving the reading of the Australian federation bill in the House of Commons today the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Chamberlain, announced that a complete agreement had been reached with the delegates on the lines of the Government's proposals. The bill, he added, would provide that the right of appeal to the Privy Council should be maintained in every case where other than Australian interests are concerned.

RACE WITHDRAWN.

Honolulu, June 5, 1900.
Mr. D. P. Isenberg, Secretary Hawaiian Jockey Club.

Dear Sir:—It is with deepest regret on our part that we are compelled to ask you to withdraw the special race from your program on the 11th of June.

Our reason for doing this is that Mr. George Carter's horse is suffering from a blistered leg, and will not be in condition to race at such an early date.

The blister has been applied by some unknown person. Mr. Carter and also his coachmen having no knowledge as to how or when the blister was applied. Thanking you for your courtesies extended to us, and appreciating the kindly feeling which exists between the members of the Jockey Club and ourselves, we remain, very truly yours,

HOW TO CURE A SPRAIN.

Last fall I sprained my left hip while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on at first said it was a slight strain, and would soon be well, but it grew worse, and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and one-half of a 50-cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—F. A. Babcock, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by all dealers and druggists, Benson, Smith & Co., general agents, Hawaiian Islands.

GIVEN THREE MONTHS MORE

OCCUPANTS OF THE CAMP AT KALIIHI.

Must Promise to Get Homes, or They Will Be Required to Leave Now—Other Matters in Cabinet.

At the Cabinet meeting it was decided to give the people in Kalihi Camp, numbering about 400, three months, from June 1 to find other quarters. Those not willing to accept this proposition will be required to leave at once.

An application from Dr. Garvin for the use of one of the buildings at Battery Camp for sewerage employees was rejected for the reason that the Government is under obligation to the Bishop estate to raze the structures there at once.

W. O. Smith and H. B. Gehl appeared in regard to the location of the Kohala Hill Railway. They were informed that the Government had no authority to act, but as soon as it did have authority it would recommend an extension of the time by six months, giving two years and six months for the completion of the road.

"Charter of Wahala Sugar Company was approved."

The Attorney General reported on several applications for charters.

ROOMS ENGAGED.

The Young Women's Christian Association has succeeded in obtaining a nice suite of rooms in the new Elite building which it will fit up for its regular purposes. One of the first things to be put in is a library of interesting books and papers.

NATIVE MASS MEETING.

Natives of the old Royalist party will hold a convention in Honolulu, beginning tomorrow and lasting three days, to talk over the political situation. They will hear what Robert Wilcox has to say in regard to an independent party, and may organize one. The Kalaiala Society, the old tall hat contingent, is holding the meeting. Kalaiala and Kaula are at the head of the movement. Delegates from all the islands will be present.

POSTOFFICE TRANSFER.

LOS ANGELES, May 21.—M. H. Flint, postal inspector for this district, will leave San Francisco for Honolulu on June 1 with $50,000 worth of United States postage stamps for use in the islands. The transfer of the Postal Department of Hawaii to the United States will take place on June 25.

REFINED SUGAR ADVANCED.

NEW YORK, May 21.—All grades of refined sugars have been advanced 5 points, except coarse sugar, which is extra fine granulated. Orders for soft sugar are taken at Saturday's full prices. All undelivered balances on contracts expiring May 31 will be canceled except Nos. 1, 2, 5 and 16. Arbuckle Brothers and the Domino Refining Company have followed the advance in refined made by the American Sugar Refining Company.

In trade circles it was explained that the advance was influenced by the firmness of raw sugar since the arrival of the plague in San Francisco.

HAWAIIAN APPOINTMENTS.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The delay in making all of the appointments for Hawaii has been that the President desired to hear from President Dole, the first governor, before taking the final step. He is now waiting on Mr. Dole, but if he does not hear within a short time will go ahead and make the remaining appointments.

WHEN THE END COMES.

The busiest life, the most successful life, the most honored life, must sometime come to an end. And when that end comes, the great question is: the man has left dependents behind him, is not of himself, but of his family. The newspaper man knows that one inquiry sure to be made and necessary to be answered is: How did he leave his family? Moral: Insure in a strong company, like the Provident Savings Life Assurance Society. I. R. Burns, resident manager.
